

Spring Green Garlic

Planting:

As soon as your ground can be worked in late Winter or early Spring, plant 3” deep in well drained soil. You have the option to break the bulbs into individual cloves and plant single cloves or plant the entire bulb. Planting whole bulbs will result in your green garlic growing in a “bunch.”

Care & harvest:

Water weekly or as needed. If you can pinch your soil and it holds together easily, it is moist enough. Don’t let the soil around your garlic dry out too much, the plants will be stunted. Harvest your Spring Green Garlic when plants are 10-12” tall and the below soil portion is in the “green onion” stage. Use in stir-frys, soups or on the grill to add some amazing garlic goodness to your meal.
